

User Terms and Conditions

Version 2.3

March 2021

We are Zivver (www.zivver.com). We are based in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. We offer a service that enables you to exchange information in a secure and user-friendly manner.

Several rules apply, to make the use of our Service as good and secure as possible. Please read these terms and conditions before you start using our Service. If you use Zivver as employee, please also reach out to the Organisation Helpdesk to ensure what rules apply to you, as your Organisation may have made additional arrangements with Zivver.

Before we start, let us help you reading this legal document:

|----|--|
| 1. | First, you will find some definitions (clause 1). These are mainly to limit the length of the document and to make sure that when we mean the same, we write the same. |
| 2. | After that, we tell you when these terms are applicable (clause 2). |
| 3. | We also tell you how you should use (clause 3) and not misuse (clause 4) the service of Zivver. It basically comes down to: keep your account confidential and do not do something you are not allowed to do by law (i.e. try to behave like a sensible human being!). |
| 4. | We furthermore describe what you as a user should and should not expect from us in terms of availability, maintenance and support (clauses 5 and 6). It goes without saying that we will always do our best to keep our service as state of the art and up to date as possible! |
| 5. | Next to that, we describe that all intellectual property rights from Zivver, remain with Zivver (clause 7). |
| 6. | We also describe that we may need to modify and update these terms in the future (clause 8). |
| 7. | We describe in what way our liability is limited (clause 9). |
| 8. | Lastly, a provision on termination is added, to cover the unlikely event that you or your organisation wishes to terminate the use of our service (clause 10). |
| 9. | In any event, do not hesitate to reach out to Zivver Support should you have any further questions (support.zivver.com). |

- 4.2 Zivver reserves the right to change the login procedure and/or the Login Credentials if it deems this necessary in the interest of the functioning and/or preservation of the Service. Zivver shall endeavour to notify User or, where applicable, the Organisation, in advance of any changes regarding the login procedure and/or the Login Credentials, provided that such notification shall not be required if it may seriously impair Zivver's objective to prevent any (future) misuse.
- 4.3 If Zivver establishes or has valid grounds to assume that User violates article 3.6 of these User Terms and Conditions, Zivver may intervene to terminate and/or mitigate such violation, including temporarily or permanently denying User access to the Account. - 5.2 As a result of maintenance and modification of the Service by Zivver, the Service may be temporarily fully or partially out of use. Maintenance can take place at any moment, even when this can lead to a limitation of the availability of the Service. Zivver shall use its best efforts to plan maintenance of the Service outside office hours as much as possible and shall endeavour to announce substantial limitations in usage of the Service timely (to the extent possible given the circumstances at hand).
- 5.3 Zivver is not obliged to compensate User and/or Guest for any loss, damage or other costs caused by a limitation in the usage of the Service as a result of maintenance and/or modification of the Service.
- 5.4 For (technical) support, User and/or Guest can contact Zivver Support (support.zivver.com) or, where applicable, the Organisation Helpdesk.

6. Availability of the Service

Zivver does not provide any explicit or implied guarantee to the User and/or Guest that the Service will be accessible at all times and without interruptions or any failures, nor that the Service will be delivered without error and/or will be complete. Malfunctions in the Service may occur as a result of failures in the internet connection, by viruses or errors and defects. If User and/or Guest experiences problems when using the Service, then User and/or Guest can report this to Zivver Support, and/or, where applicable, the Organisation Helpdesk.

The Service contains certain licensed materials and Zivver and its or its affiliates licensors may protect their rights in the event of any violation of these User Terms and Conditions and/or, where applicable, the Agreement. Except as otherwise permitted by law, none of the Intellectual Property Rights described in this paragraph may be copied or used in any way without the explicit written permission of Zivver.
- 7.2 Under the terms and subject to the conditions as stated in these User Terms and Conditions, Zivver hereby grants User a non-exclusive, revocable, limited and non-transferable right of use to use the Service.

- 7.4 If User and/or Guest, or the Organisation Helpdesk on behalf of User, sends information to Zivver, for instance feedback on an error or a suggestion for improvement, Zivver has the right to use this information for improving or amending the Service. This provision does not apply to information that User and/or Guest explicitly marks as confidential.

- 7.5 Zivver shall not take cognisance of confidential data (such as personal messages) that User and/or Guest stores, sends or otherwise processes via the Service, insofar as this is not necessary for the delivery of the Service.

8. Modification User Terms and Conditions

Zivver has the unilateral right to amend these User Terms and Conditions at any time. Zivver shall use its best efforts to notify the User on the amendment of the User Terms and Conditions.

9. Limitation of liability

- 9.1 The Service is provided by Zivver to the User and Guest on an "as is" basis without warranty of any kind.
- 9.2 Unless caused by Zivver's intentional behaviour or its gross negligence, the aggregate liability of Zivver (including any liability of its directors and employees) towards a User and/or Guest shall in no event, whether in contract or otherwise, exceed the fees relating to or paid by User or its Organisation to Zivver under the Agreement during the three months immediately preceding the date of the claim giving rise to such liability.
- 9.3 Without prejudice to what is stipulated in Article 9.2 of the User Terms and Conditions, any liability on the part of Zivver towards Users shall be limited to the amount paid out under the liability insurance policies taken out by Zivver.
- 9.4 Zivver shall not be liable for any indirect damages including loss or corruption of (personal) data, loss of profits, loss of revenue, loss of business, loss resulting from business interruption and loss resulting from damage to image or reputation, in each case whether direct or indirect.

10. Termination

- 10.1 If User decides that User no longer wishes to use the Service, User can terminate the Account or, where applicable, arrange this internally with the Organisation Helpdesk. Zivver has the right to terminate an Account at any time, without cause, and without prior notification. Upon termination or expiry of this Agreement for any reason, this clause and clauses 4.7-8, 7, 9 and 11 of these User Terms and Conditions shall remain applicable.
- 10.2 Where applicable, if the Agreement expires or is terminated, for whatever reason, User can and may no longer make use of the Service. In such event, it is the obligation of the Organisation to notify User of the end of the Agreement and the use of the Service. Provided that the Agreement is in full force and effect, the User may only make use of the Service as long as the User is employed by the Organisation.

11. Governing law and dispute resolution

These User Terms and Conditions are governed by Dutch law. User shall first submit a complaint or claim to Zivver and/or its Organisation in order to reach an amicable settlement with Zivver. All disputes arising from or connected with these User Terms and Conditions shall be submitted to the competent court in Amsterdam, the Netherlands.
